

Instructions for registration to the Congress

(Please read carefully this document before making your payment)

Registration payments must be made in the bank accounts that appear on the Congress website. Choose the option that corresponds to you depending on your situation.

There are three ways to participate in the Congress:

- i. As a listener.
- ii. Oral presentation (30 minutes of presentation plus 5 minutes of questions).
- iii. Posters (the details for this modality will be sent to the chosen participants in a timely manner).

The papers registration form, as well as the registration payment format, can be downloaded from the Congress website. Before filling it, take into account the following considerations:

- a) If your interest is to participate in the Congress only as a listener, we recommend that you make your registration payment as soon as possible to avoid late registration surcharges.
- b) If your intention is to participate in the Congress only if your work is accepted, we strongly recommend you send your paper registration form with all the information requested about it as soon as possible, to speed up the process of peer review that will be carry out by the Organizing Committee. Due to space and time constraints we will probably have to make a selection within the set of works submitted. Once your paper is accepted it is suggested that you make your registration payment as soon as possible to avoid late registration surcharges. Properly consider the corresponding payment category (professional, postgraduate student, undergraduate student, etc.).
- c) In any other case, we strongly suggest you make your registration payment as soon as possible to avoid late registration surcharges.
